THE STARK COUNTY LAW LIBRARY

Older Ohio Materials on Microfiche and Film to Be More Easily Accessible

Not finding that unpublished Ohio 5th District Court of Appeals decision from the 1980s on Google, Lexis, or Westlaw? Need Ohio legislature committee reports or bill analysis from the 1970s? The law library's collection of microfiche and film is where these materials can be located.

Using these resources will soon become easier. The library will be purchasing a new digital microfilm/fiche machine for viewing, scanning, and printing.

The digital scanner will automatically focus and straighten the image. A magnifier is available on the scanner to allow a closer look at small print.

The scanner will allow you to copy information from several documents and create a new document with the various pieces of clipped information.

You will be able to save information in a digital file and download or email it, and still have the option to print it.

In addition to the Ohio resources previously mentioned, the library has the Code of Federal Regulations from 1979-1997, the Federal Register from 1936-2004, and many old law journals in microfiche format. Library staff is here to help you locate and use these older sources.

The library has received a grant from the Ohio Consortium of County Law Libraries enabling it to purchase the new equipment to read microfiche and film digitally. The scanner is expected to arrive by June.

The Law Library will be closed Monday, May 25th in observance of Memorial Day
